

On a stage replete with jewellery, handbags, wedding dresses, party dresses and top-shelf avant-garde creations inspired by nature, the sea and the colours of Formentera, the island's vice-president and commerce councillor, Ana Juan, thanked local designers for making the Passarel·la possible amid such complicated times: "Despite the challenges, the modest local industries of fashion and design are thriving", she affirmed.

Creators included Janne Bikinis, Hippie Shop Formentera, Kavra de Formentera, Equilibre, Simona Colzi&Le Voyeur Vintage, Vintage Ibiza- Formentera, Macramé&Acho jewellery, Molly Mallone, Michele Crocitto, Elena Hurtado & Lorenzo Pepe "OBI", Laura López, Eva Cardona, Ur Joies, Flavio Cocho and Majoral.

A duo of hosts, journalist Montse Montsalve and young hometown musician Miquel Tur, presided over events from 9.00pm, though not without help from the professional models at Deva Models of Eivissa.
